Gooderham school will remain open

The school in Gooderham will remain open for the 1987-88 school year and probably longer, if predictions of a community group supporting the continued operation of the facility prove to be correct.

The Haliburton County Board of Education formally accepted the recommendation of its own committee that the Kindergarten to Grade 4 school remain in operation for another year. The proposal was accepted at the January 27 meeting of the board.

Gooderham residents were pleased with the actions of the board. Spokesman Craig Pettit said the group was particularly pleased with the quick response they had received from the board on the matter.

Last year, the Gooderham school had been named as a candidate school for closure. The action prompted Glamorgan Township residents form a committee in an attempt to ensure the facility remained open.

The citizen's group met with the board's committee at a special meeting in the middle of January at which time they presented their case for the continued operation of the school. According to Pettit, the group was informed the next day of the committee's favourable recommendation. The board ratified that opinion last Tuesday.

Director of Education Stuart Baker said one of the reasons the board favoured the continued operation of the school was the strong community support. He noted the issue of transporting the students from Gooderham to a school in Haliburton was a factor which favoured the continuation of the present facility.

Baker said the community committee and board representatives conducted a co-operative review of the situation. The two groups worked well together he commented, sharing both sides of the debate.

The director noted that the school remains on the closure candidate list and its future will have to be reviewed again next year.

The fact that another review will take place next year does not seem to concern the community group. Pettit said the survey of the area served by the school, Glamorgan Township, indicated a gradual rise in student population over the next few years then a sharp increase until 1991.

At the moment, there are 22.5 equivalent, full-time students in the two teacher school. According to the group's survey of the community, that number will increase next year to 23.5. In subsequent years the increases will be: 1988 - 24 students; 1989 - 29.5 students; 1990 - 34.5 students and 1991 - 39 students. The survey counted children presently living in the municipality and included the children of expectant mothers.

Mr. Pettit said the community group presented the board with facts and were prepared to support them with additional material. He acknowledged that the members of the board have many factors to consider in such a case. However, he noted in addition to the anticipated increase in student population, the group was concerned about the impact of bussing the students to Haliburton.

He said the quality of the education offered at the Gooderham school was high and the community was solidly behind its continued operation.

"We tend to take facilities like these for granted," Pettit commented. "What happened here points out how vulnerable a community resource like the school can be. The threat of its closure sure wakes up a community," he concluded.

Film, speaker mark Break the Silence Month

Once again this year the Family Violence Safety Network in Haliburton County will be marking Break the Silence Month during February. The designation has been created to bring attention to the plight of individuals caught in the web of family violence and to highlight the services available to those seeking help.

To bring the problem of family violence to the attention of the community, a number of special forums have been planned. The first was held last night in Dorset.

The forums will include the showing of a film entitled Moving On, depicting an inspiring example of a community that has effectively responded to the problem of battering, by co-ordinating services and establishing a battered women's advocacy clinic as well as a program for men who batter.

Following the film, a panel discussion will be held with the following speakers featured: Jude King of the Family Violence Safety Network, Shelly Weiller or Glenn Hamilton of the men's group and representatives from the OPP, legal community and welfare services.

Those interested in attending these presentations can do so at the following locations: February 12 at the Legion Hall in Haliburton; February 19 at the community centre in Minden and February 24 at the Lloyd Watson Memorial Centre in Wilberforce. All meetings begin at 7 p.m.

Township shows building growth

The municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden has realized a major surge in building during 1986, according to statistics compiled by the community's acting building inspector Gerry Poirier.

According to the year-end totals, the value of building permits issued last year totalled $4,309,458. This compares with $2,630,669 in 1985 and $2,975,505 in 1984. Interestingly, the number of permits issued in 1986 is identical to the number from the year before, 172, even though the value of the permits has increased $1,678,000.

The following figures highlight the main areas of development during the past year. 1985 figures are shown in brackets for comparison purposes. New dwellings: $832,500 ($640,000); New cottages $1,156,080 ($898,160); Accessory buildings $117,250 ($172,490); New commercial $530,300 ($317,000); Commercial additions $1,158,778 ($257,720).

Over the past three years, the municipality has issued some 520 building permits for a total value of $9,915,632.

Fearrey says 'no' as Conservatives begin to manoeuvre for nomination

While one member of the local Provincial Progressive Conservative Party has announced her intention to seek the nomination in March, the candidate in the last election, Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey says he will not.

Emily Township resident Ann Wilson hit the campaign trail this past week, visiting at local newspaper offices and talking with members of the Victoria-Haliburton Provincial Progressive Conservative Association.

After announcing her intention, The Times contacted Murray Fearrey. "It is not my intention to seek the upcoming nomination" Fearrey said. The Dysart Reeve was recently selected to serve as Warden of Haliburton County.

In the press release, Wilson said she felt the PC's could win the next provincial election in this riding. "Yes. Men and women throughout this riding are turning dreams into reality through their sheer determination to take responsibility for themselves.

"They don't want to be dependent on government for their means of life. They want a society where human betterment balances economic growth.

"These are Progressive Conservative principles.

"We're interested, not just in doing the right thing, but the right thing that works.

"I believe that I can reflect the spirit of the people of Victoria-Haliburton and we have some of the finest Tory campaigners in the Province living right here. Together we'll do it."

Asked why she started working long before the March 7 nomination meeting was set, Wilson said "I believe that we can demonstrate the true grass roots style of politics that all the political parties are discussing.

"I'm dedicated to providing the leadership which gives the people a definite opportunity to be heard, not just before or during an election but throughout my term of office.

"I'm offering community meetings on a monthly basis in rotating areas of the riding, the first of which will be in Norland February 9.

"I announced my intention early because it isn't just a case of winning a nomination. It's a case of being prepared to provide accountable and accessible government."

Wilson chose the Norland site deliberately. "I want to hear first hand what the people have to say about the school situation in that area. "There's no doubt in my mind that an MPP is a representative of people, not Boards of Education. Actually, the school situation seems to be a good example of what shouldn't happen.

"No one group should progress at the expense of another. It shouldn't be a case of big business over small, tourism over agriculture, health care over environment. All aspects of community life must grow at the same rate and ideally should work hand in hand for communities to thrive."

ATTENTION: NON-PROFIT HOUSING ORGANIZATIONS

Create non-profit housing in your community. Get your application now.

Meeting Ontario's housing needs.

Applications are being invited for the development of 6,700 new non-profit housing units across Ontario. Construction on these units will begin in 1988.

Groups should start planning their proposals now to meet preliminary application deadlines early this coming Spring.

The Government of Canada through Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation, and the Province of Ontario through the Ministry of Housing, will be cost-sharing assistance directed to needy households. Market units will be fully funded by the Province of Ontario.

The program is open to all municipal non-profit, private non-profit and non-profit co-operative organizations.

Local community organizations wishing to sponsor non-profit housing projects can apply for government grants to cover the costs of establishing non-profit housing corporations.

Affordable housing for those in need.

This program helps non-profit agencies to create affordable housing for households in need of housing assistance. These include families, senior citizens or physically, developmentally and psychiatrically handicapped persons able to live independently.

For project proposals in this category, completed preliminary applications must be submitted by Friday, May 15, 1987, to be considered for the 1988 allocations.

Housing for low-income singles.

Some of the units will be specifically targeted to low-income singles.

Organizations interested in sponsoring such projects must submit their preliminary applications by May 15, 1987.

Housing with support services.

A portion of the units will be set aside for groups interested in developing housing for people with support service needs. These include physically, developmentally or psychiatrically handicapped persons, the frail elderly, battered women and other socially disadvantaged persons.

Groups interested in developing this type of housing are invited to special orientation sessions - to be held in February at each Regional Office of the Ministry of Housing.

Preliminary applications indicating an intent to develop a housing project with support services are to be submitted by March 31, 1987. Eligibility depends on the degree and nature of care provided.

Call now for details. For more information and application packages, contact your nearest Regional Office of the Ministry of Housing listed below.

Acid rain report

The following is the report of precipitation events recorded at the Ministry of Environment acid rain testing laboratories in Dorset and compiled by Environment Canada. There were two events during the latest recording period:

- January 28, one cm of snow, pH 4.1, from Ohio and southern Ontario.
- January 30-31, 13 cm of snow, pH 4.1, from Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, southern Ontario as well as northeast Quebec and central Ontario.

Environmental damage is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH less than 4.7. Readings of 4.0 pH or less are considered dangerous. The lower the reading, the more acidic the precipitation.

Two students at Archie Stouffer Elementary School received prizes for their posters depicting the work of the Victorian Order of Nurses. The competition, sponsored by the local branch of the VON, was held in conjunction with the organization's 90th anniversary celebrations. Winners at the Minden school were Julie Bird, centre, left and Paula Normile who received their prizes from VON representatives Marg Fielding, left and Helen Berry.

Administrator resigns

Stanley Baker, the business administrator and treasurer for the Haliburton County Board of Education has announced his intention to resign from the post. The resignation was presented to the board and accepted with regret at the January 27 meeting.

Mr. Baker, who joined the local board in 1982, said that after 24 years in business administration for various boards of education, he felt it was time for a change. He noted he had a number of personal goals to pursue, "I want to move on to other things," he added.

Mr. Baker came to the Haliburton County Board from the York Region Board of Education where he had served in a senior business administration position since 1969. Prior to that he had been a secretary-treasurer and business administrator of a secondary school board in the York region.

The board has struck a committee to begin the search for a replacement for the administrator. Members of the committee include director of education Stuart Baker, and trustees Len Salvatori, Cheryl Murdoch and Ross Anderson. Mr. Baker has not set a date for the resignation to be effective, allowing the board flexibility in finding a replacement.

Mr. Baker said he plans to remain in the Highlands after stepping down from the post.

A sensible approach

It was not so much a victory of one side over another, as it was a sensible exploration of the facts and an agreeable coming together of minds. We refer to the decision of the Haliburton County School Board to keep the Gooderham school open for another year.

Issues like the closing of schools tend to result in a rapid polarization of individuals, the citizens group vs the board. The result is often a feeling that one side or the other is attempting to put one over on the other, to win their case by any means. What is often lost in this approach is respect for the opinions of those in opposition. Their reasons for initiating an action or reaction deserve a fair assessment by the "opponents" without the clouding influence of emotion.

This issue appears to have been resolved with just that sort of even-handed, analytical approach, one that examined the facts as presented and came to a reasonable, shared conclusion.

Neither side can claim a victory, because the real winners are the children and both sides were motivated by the students' best interests in the first place.

One other aspect of this story which struck us as being significant was the comment by the spokesman for the citizens' group. Reflecting on the announcement from the board last year that their local school may be closed, he noted how complacency can create a situation where community resources can be lost. The threat to the local facility provided the needed shock to motivate the residents into action; it "woke up the community."

Each community needs to be vigilant for the potential of resources to be lost through attrition, erosion or outright closure. Nurture what you have today to ensure it will be there to meet your needs tomorrow.

Horses on parade.

Egos in full flower

- by Arthur Black -

"People hate me because I am a multifaceted, talented, wealthy, internationally famous genius."

Jerry Lewis.

Ah, there is nothing quite as magnificent as an entertainer's ego in full flower -- and nothing makes it blossom more luxuriantly than the nagging suspicion that maybe, just maybe, the adoring public might be growing disenchanted with the entertainer in question. Jerry Lewis is a perfect case in point. He's got an ego the size of the Goodyear Blimp and about as much sensitivity as there is lint in a cockroaches navel. Last year a Montreal newspaper reporter by the name of Lucinda Chodan had less than kind words to say about one of Lewis's typically brainless performances. Old Jer' blithely explained the bad review away with: "You can't accept one individual's opinion, especially if it's female, and you know, God willing -- I hope for her sake it's not the case -- but when they get their period it's really difficult for them to function as normal human beings."

Spoken like a true multifaceted, talented, wealthy, internationally famous genius.

But Lewis isn't the only celluloid celebrity to be caught licking his wounds in public lately -- there's an absolute rash of thin skin going around Tinseltown -- and an utter plague of lawyers feeding off it.

You heard about the famous Joan Rivers phone call? Seems The Mouth at Midnight decided that it would be a swell idea to phone up Victoria Principal on the air and ask her all kinds of embarrassing questions while the studio audience -- and millions of TV watchers -- listened in. The star of Dallas wasn't home, but La Rivers fixed her wagon anyway by giving out her unlisted phone number and urging everybody to give her a call.

The next day, Principal's attorneys called Rivers instead, and whacked the late-night comedienne with a $3 million lawsuit. The lawsuit claims that poor Victoria suffered "humiliation and anguish" as a result of receiving "numerous telephone calls from individuals she did not know."

Well, my heart is certainly hemorrhaging for the beleaguered soap opera star and I think three mil is little enough for such humiliation and anguish -- especially if it means I can sue the next half dozen folks who phone me with offers of vacuum cleaners, retirement property in Florida and subscriptions to Maclean's.

Speaking of lawsuits, the famous Doctor Ruth has launched one of her own. Apparently the world's shortest sex therapist sustained a bruised ego as a result of a speech she failed to give.

It wasn't the speech, or even the audience -- it was the excuse the speaker's agency gave for Doctor Ruth's no-show. The agency claimed that she was suffering from "emotional illness".

Doctor Ruth got quite emotional over that -- so much so that she is suing the agency for slander -- to the tune of a trifling $1.3 million.

But that is not the most delicious piece of egocentric litigation currently clogging the U.S. judicial system. That honour has to go to an action recently launched by Miami Vicenik Philip Michael Thomas.

Thomas is the pouty fashion plate who portrays Detective Rico Tubbs -- displaying, as some wag once wrote of another less-than-great thespian "the full gamut of emotions ranging from A to B."

He is suing the National Enquirer for a whopping $14 million. Why? Well, mostly because the Rag We All Love To Read at The Checkout Counter alleged that Philip Michael was "a mama's boy". The Thomas lawsuit actually blusters (would I make this up?) that Thomas had never been "a mama's boy but was a high school athlete and a "masculine 'hunk'".

Such supreme silliness will not surprise anyone who has followed Philip Michael Thomas's career. The man raises narcissism to an art form. If this guy and Jerry Lewis

The Ontario Government appears poised to make its decision on whether to force cleanup of the Terrace Bay pulpmill. On the face of it, the decision would affect just one (among many) of Ontario's polluting pulp and paper mills.

But looking carefully, it is clear that the impending Government action (or inaction) will be a bellwether for environmental protection in Ontario.

At issue are a pending, new control order and a compliance schedule for the mill, operated by Kimberly-Clark of Canada Limited, a wholly owned subsidiary of the U.S. giant, Kimberly-Clark Corporation.

The mill -- long regarded as a noteworthy Lake Superior polluter -- has been issued control orders dating back to 1979. It is our understanding that the mill has never fully met their requirements.

With the existing control order expired (the mill is operating under a temporary extension) -- and amid public expectation of a new, tough line by Environment Minister Jim Bradley -- the company has 'cried poor.' It has threatened to close the mill (devastating the town's economy) if force to undertake expensive cleanup.

We don't know if the claims of economic hardship are valid -- to do so requires a thorough analysis of not Trivia: Is there any truth in the Groundhog Legend? The statistical analysis of whether winter will continue for six more weeks if the groundhog sees his shadow on February 2 - a study of the weather record books in Toronto in over a 10 year period revealed that there were 3 groundhog days that were too cloudy for a shadow to be seen. In each of those years the winter dragged on for its normal length of time. There were seven years when bright sunshine produced good shadows. Of those years, 3 continued wintery for several weeks in accordance with the groundhog story; however the other 4 were much milder than usual. Therefore over ten years the groundhog's score was only 30 percent. Better not depend on him.

Bank rate falls

The Bank of Canada rate fell to 7.74 per cent on January 22nd, its lowest level in a decade. The chartered banks have lowered their prime lending rate to 9.25 per cent, the lowest level since 1978.

Interest rates have fallen significantly since the September 1984 election of a Progressive Conservative government.

What do you think?

by Bill Kulas

Over the past several years much has been written about acid rain and how it is, killing and has, killed countless lakes in Canada.

Governments in both Canada and the U.S. have put pressure on industry to curtail their sulphate and nitrate emissions. Emissions enter the atmosphere and fall back to earth mixed with precipitation.

Ontario Hydro and INCO in Sudbury have cut their sulphate emissions drastically over the past several years. Automobile manufacturers in the next eighteen months will only be able to sell vehicles that use unleaded fuel. This will cut down on nitrate emissions significantly.

Locally some of the problems that are likely associated with acid rain are being noticed. One example is maple tree die back. The maples seem to be dying from the top on down. Could this be due to atmospheric pollution?

What does the future hold for our local maple syrup producers?

Fish reproductivity in many area lakes is being affected. How will this affect our sports fishery? What of the recent notices from the Ministry of Natural Resources warning hunters not to eat the organs of moose because of high levels of cadmium, a heavy metal.

A recent study found that trees in Quebec and Ontario are not growing as quickly as they did 30 or 40 years ago. The slower growth can be linked at least partly to acid rain said Leo Wittgenstein, president of Dendron Resources Surveys Ltd., the consulting company that conducted the study for the Canadian Forestry Service. He said a 30% decline in growth rate was typical of the sample areas, and cautioned that the figure did not represent a loss of volume but a change in growth rate, which is complicated by the height of the trees and their size.

Now, if our forests, our wildlife, our fish and our water is affected then would the health of people not also be affected? Normal rainfall has a pH factor of 5.6. If you have followed the data printed in our local papers as provided by the Ministry of the Environment, the average for our area over the past year has been in the 4.0 to 4.2 range. Using the logarithmic scale, the rainfall is ten (10) times more acidic than normal. Most of our precipitation in the form of rain and snow comes from the U.S. South-West.

As inhabitants of the most beautiful part of Ontario we must do what we can to assure that our very precious natural resources are preserved and protected now and for the future. Our M.P., Mr. Bill Scott, our M.P.P., Mr. John Eakins and all of our local politicians are well aware of the gravity of acid rain. It is through them that a strong message be conveyed to their U.S. counter-parts. What do you think?

Send in the clowns.

Thin ice poses winter hazard

- by John Eakins, MPP -

Ice fishing has been a popular sport in Ontario for many years, and in Victoria-Haliburton, many anglers are attracted to Lake Scugog during the winter months. Ken Bevan, a conservation officer with the Ministry of Natural Resources in Lindsay recently sent me a report which includes a few safety tips for those taking part in this winter pastime.

Lake Scugog has an average ice covering of about 15 to 20 centimetres. However, there are still some open areas on parts of the lake. Anglers are urged to be careful, particularly in those areas of the lake with a strong current or where springs enter, as the ice may be thinner at these locations. An example is off the northern end of Scugog Island.

And speaking of the Ministry of Natural Resources, the Hon. Vince Kerrio has asked me to remind readers of summer employment opportunities for students with the Ministry. My colleague advises there are 1350 positions available this year through the junior ranger program. This is a work education program open to younger Ontario people attending secondary school and eligible to work in Canada.

Junior Rangers must be 17 by December 1987 but not 18 by July, 1987. The program lasts 8 weeks in July and August and students are paid $15.00 a day plus room and board. Transportation to the site is paid for by the Ministry.

Over the years I have had the pleasure to correspond with many students in Victoria-Haliburton who have participated in this program and almost all those I have heard from have enjoyed this opportunity.

Through the Experience '87 program, 900 positions will be available with the Ministry of Natural Resources to perform various tasks. The minimum pay is $3.50 per hour for students under 18 and $4.35 per hour for those 18 and over. Supervisors over 18 receive $4.85. Local hiring is encouraged and local office will be hiring

Mourning a dear friend

Reading a publication like a newspaper or a weekly news magazine becomes a matter of habit as much as it is a search for information. For example, if you are a regular reader of Time magazine, the publication, in many ways, is like an old friend. You're familiar with the format, recognize the bylines, look for your favourite columnists, know what you'll find in each of the sections ... you're comfortable with the writing style and layout.

The same is true for regular readers of Maclean's or Saturday Night or Sports Illustrated or the Globe and Mail. Like an old sweater one can slip into them comfortably and feel relaxed as you turn the pages past familiar signposts.

jack's world

by editor & publisher Jack Brezina

A few months ago, a familiar old sweater of mine was put through a wash, spin and starch cycle that, to put it mildly, was somewhat disconcerting. The grand dame of Canadian newspapers, Canada's 'National Newspaper', The Globe and Mail stopped sending us the Toronto edition and began offering the National edition through the local vending boxes.

While the thinner National installment carried many of the familiar elements of the Toronto edition, it was just not the same. I couldn't help but feel that somehow this old friend had changed. It was if he had won a lottery or received a large inheritance ... there was still recognition, but a chasm had opened between us, an unfamiliar distance that altered the special relationship that had grown over the years.

This week, that relationship was shattered completely. No, they were not sending an even thinner Globe and Mail, they just stopped sending us any at all.

I went to the familiar orange Globe and Mail box earlier this week only to discover that it was empty, except for a letter propped in the window of the door. The letter said this area would no longer be receiving Canada's National Newspaper on a regular basis because the numbers sold did not warrant the cost of delivery and the advertisers didn't count us anyway when taking the publication's circulation into consideration. The letter suggested the Globe would be back in the summer when increased circulation would warrant the effort ... just like another Toronto-based newspaper which, for most people, starts on page three.

Like the passing of an old friend, I, and I guess a few other individuals in our community, will miss the old dame. In a way, I can't help but feel a bit betrayed as well. After years of faithful reading, the newspaper has deserted me, left me standing on a snowy Minden street hunched over, trying to read the letter through the window and wondering about the words on the side of the box, "Canada's National Newspaper."

At a recent Board meeting a motion was passed calling for the tendering of our summer guide program. Alcom Marketing will publish the 1987 guide, due to be released in March of 87, along with the Directory of Membership Services due in May 1987. This will be the end of the three year agreement with Alcom Marketing.

Our marketing committee and the Board will have to give some consideration over the next few months as to what direction we need to be taking with the publication. At the last COTA meeting in December 1986, which I attended at Parkwood in Oshawa, COTA, as well elected to open its program for tendering after March 1987. We now have the opportunity to either tie in with the direction that COTA wishes to go in, or consider the advantages and disadvantages of publishing our own guide.

In any event, I think we should thank Allan Hall and Alcom Marketing for the quality guide that they have been able to produce over the last couple of years. It has raised the profile of our County through its widespread direction that the Chamber does proceed should not be at the sacrifice of the quality now found in our promotional lure piece.

I spoke with Marj Kennedy last week. The promotion for the Chamber Cook Book is proceeding well. If you have a favourite recipe, send it along to the Chamber Office. There is also some advertising space left in the Cook Book, if you are interested in a space please contact Shirley Rapson or Marj Kennedy, again at the Chamber Office.

So much conceit and so little reason for it. Makes me wish Golda Meir was still around. She had a special talent for deflating bloated egos -- such as the fawning government flunky who tried using fake humility to ingratiate himself with her. After a few tedious minutes of grovelling and bootlicking, Mrs. Meir took the wretch by the shoulders, fixed him with those marvellous deadpan eyes and said: "Don't be humble; you're not that great."

THE MINDEN KINSMEN 1987 Winter Carnival Committee

would like to sincerely thank Reeve Sinc Nesbitt and the Councillors of Anson, Hindon, and Minden; Bev Millar; the Roads Department; Brian Sisson, Joe Dollo, and Bob Wells; the Minden Skating Club; the Curling Club; the Minor Hockey Association; the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association; CHACE Place; Don and Pat Mintz, Bonnie and Gerry Nettinga, Bess Cox, Michael Shirley, Rob Young, Dave Howell's emergency tire service, Frontier Motors, Minden Plymouth Chrysler, all those businesses and organizations who participated in the parade; pipers Earl and Andy Cooper and drummer Gord Kennedy; Bill Payne, Master of Ceremonies Without Equal; Bruce Glass, Barb Dawson, Don Maddock, all the young ladies who participated in the Carnival Queen Contest; Norm Mills, Auctioneer, and his elves; the Minden Times Staff; the Kinette Club of Minden and K-40 members; and Molson's Brewery for their help in making the Carnival a great success.

The length of the above list, general and inevitably incomplete as it is, attests to the massive volunteer effort that is put forth each time a community festival is organized. We are proud to have been a part of it.

Thank you all.

only the subsidiary but also the financial dealings with the parent company.

But we do know that the very resolve of the Ontario Government to environmental protection is at stake.

Back in the spring, the Ontario Government (through the Environment Minister) made a number of policy announcements. Most notable of these was MISA - the Municipal and Industrial Strategy for Abatement.

Through this, the Ontario Government has finally (and commendably) taken the position that it's time to 'bite the bullet' - that a target of "virtual elimination" of persistent, toxic discharges should be set and that we must, progressively, work toward that target using the best available technology. The Government recognized that this will require significant financial commitments by the Ontario Government, municipalities, a multitude of industries and (ultimately) consumers alike. These are the foundations upon which the future direction of pollution control are to be based.

But, before MISA has even really 'got rolling' (the Ministry is still working on the implementating mechanics), along comes Terrace Bay as an issue. Kimberly - Clark essentially demands that it be allowed to indefinitely break the standards, and threatens to close down.

Then, the Ontario Government (through the Treasurer) hints that it might, or might not, be prepared to financially assist a cleanup, citing the Canada - U.S. unfair subsidy issue as a consideration.

A provincial subsidy may actually be necessary. And the trade-subsidy concern may be valid.

But if we can't clean up even one of the truly noteworthy pollution situations, what hope is there of getting hundreds of others to invest major sums in 'best available technology'?

A large audience - of other pulp and paper operators, petrochemical, electroplating and other industries; as well as a host of municipalities - is doubtless watching. It doubtless includes good corporate citizens-firms which have invested huge sums in pollution control expecting their competitive position to be protected. And it doubtless includes those who don't want to spend anything on abatement. That audience will be noting carefully the Government's decision and action (or inaction) on Terrace Bay. And if it notes inaction, then the precedent of Terrace Bay will come trotting out time and time again.

HONDA SNOWTHROWERS

SIX GOOD REASONS TO WINTER IN CANADA.

This year there are five Honda models to choose from. From 3.5 to 8 horsepower. Some models have dual-track drive for extra-traction; others come equipped with wheels for tight maneuvering. All the larger models have 3 forward speeds plus reverse. One even comes with electric start. Honda's largest snowthrower will bite into drifts of up to a foot and a half deep and haul off up to 38 tons of snow in an hour. So this year get a Honda snowthrower and instead of spending winter moving snow find yourself moving over it.

Prentice family burn up the ice at local track

For the past couple of weeks the Minden fairgrounds have been a-buzz with activity. On the big big kidney-shaped ice track built earlier this winter by the Kinsmen, ice car racers - more than a hundred of them on Carnival Weekend - have been testing their skill, cheered on by enthusiastic pit-crews and spectators standing on the surrounding snowbanks.

Too cold to be standing about on snow banks, you say?

Not for the fans or anyone else who's strayed over to watch a race. It's a fast and exciting sport and you soon warm up even if you're just spectating.

The races run at the fairgrounds for six weeks - as they have ever winter for the past number of years - and attract some of the best drivers in the sport, as well as a host of hobby mechanics who compete for sheer love of auto racing.

The Minden venue has been successful since the beginning. The first competition, held in 1976, attracted about 35 drivers. Each succeeding year that number has grown as more people became attracted to the sport and drivers realized what the Minden race had to offer.

This year the number of racers is expected to go well over the hundred mark, and for the first time organizers of the event have found sponsors. STP has agreed to provide some of the prizes for the six week duration as well as the start-finish banner, and the Yokohama Tire Company also sponsored during Carnival Weekend.

Most of the ice car drivers came from other parts of Ontario but more and more local residents are picking up the sport.

And local businessmen are also taking an interest. Over the period of the race the drivers and their families contribute an estimated $60,000 to the local economy, eating at the restaurants and staying at the motels. That's a lot of money, especially when you consider that January and February, the race months, are one of the slowest times of the year for the tourist-based economy.

Host by accident

Minden became host to the ice car races almost by accident.

It all began in the winter of 1975 when Tom Prentice was scouting about in Selwin, Ontario, looking for another event for the Winter Carnival.

"Well," Prentice says, "I saw this fellow making an ice track, and it seemed a bit strange to me then because I'd never seen one before. So I asked him what was going on."

"The idea sounded interesting so I stayed to see the races."

Prentice liked what he saw, and when he reported back to the Kinsmen, they liked the idea, too. So it was settled and a request was made to the Peterborough Motor Sports Club to hold their ice races in Minden. And they agreed.

The races went well on the ice track built by the Kinsmen. Up to 1976, most tracks were made on frozen lakes, where because of changing ice conditions the drivers never knew beforehand what to expect from the course. The Minden course was an immediate hit

Last year the Minden Kinsmen submitted the ice car races as their service project in the District 8 competition and won.

In the 10 years, since the races came to Minden, Prentice himself has become an avid competitor. It started with the very first race.

"They made me a co-with the drivers because, being on dry land, it never broke and could be easily groomed.

When Minden first began hosting the ice car races, there were a number of different tracks across Ontario. Now however, if Minden's isn't the only one, it's certainly the most popular.

driver," he explains, "and right then and there I was hooked."

Since then he's raced every year and he intends to keep at it. And what's more, Prentice's family has taken up the sport as well. His wife, Marg, is now an experienced co-driver, the two older boys, Jack and Tom, have both raced, and the twins, Tony and Terry, are bound and determined that they too will carry on what has become a family tradition when they're old enough to drive.

Prentice is not going to stand in their way. "I kind of push my kids to take part in the sport because I think it's an excellent opportunity to learn the capabilities of an automobile on ice," he says. As well, anyone who goes into ice racing learns in a hurry - if he doesn't already know - how to take apart and fix a car.

Easy to learn

Though the sport looks complicated, it's quite easy for a complete new-comer to learn the ropes. The 11 classes are really variations on three basic car designs: front engine, front wheel drive; front engine, rear wheel drive; and rear engine, rear wheel drive. While it takes a powerful engine to win in the studded class, the majority of races are run on standard rubber tires and are won with well worn, older engines.

"A newer engine will jerk a car about and cause it to slide," Prentice explains. "You want a nice, even pull."

People who follow ice racing will know that there isn't much in the way of cash prizes for the winners. Despite the lack of financial remuneration, there are some pretty big names in the sport, drivers who regularly race at Mosport and other races on the professional circuit. That, say ice racing enthusiasts, is because drivers get enough fun and enjoyment from testing their skill on the icy kidney-shaped track that they don't worry about the lack of prize money.

"It's a poorman's sport," Prentice explains. "Organizers deliberately avoid getting involved with money so that anyone with an old car and a racing licence can take part. If there was a big cash prize then drivers who could would soon start spending a lot more money on their cars. And that would effectively prevent the average driver - the guy who just gets out on the track as a hobby - from having any hope of winning."

Though Prentice has never won the race over all, he's frequently placed in and won individual races. "When you know there's some pretty good drivers out there, you really feel good when you do well," he says.

As what is probably the cheapest form of motor sport there is, ice racing is not difficult to get into. The first thing you need, says Prentice, is a racing licence, which you can get by joining any auto club. Anyone old enough to drive on the highway is old enough to get a racing licence, though the test is rigorous.

Perhaps the most expensive piece of equipment in ice racing is the helmet which has to meet strict club restrictions.

Beyond that, all you need is an old clunker with four snow tires and a few minor safety additions, such as special seat belts.

But winning a race is a different story. "It takes skill and concentration," says Prentice. "Though in most classes you don't need a powerful car, you have to know your vehicle and what it can do."

Though there are quite a few area residents who take part in the ice races, Prentice admits that a lot more could do so.

Even so, the ice races have already done a great deal for the community. Besides the $60,000 the racers and their families spend in local stores, the Kinsmen raise about $3,500 every season in

For a small business proprietor, farmer or fisherman whose interest rate fluctuates with the prime (i.e. prime plus a fixed number of percentage points), this means an annual saving of $375 for each $10,000 of debt. The present chartered bank prime rate of 9 1/4 per cent would have to more than double to reach the August 1981 Liberal level of 22 3/4 per cent.

Five-year Farm Credit Corporation loans are down 3 1/4 percentage points. The annual cost of a new $75,000 loan taken out to purchase new equipment is $2,500 less than it was in September 1984.

A national Canada Day poster contest will be launched early in January with a prize of an all-expense paid trip to Ottawa for the winning artist and immediate family on July 1, 1987. Secretary of State David Crombie recently announced. The Bay and McDonald's are supporting the contest and helping get the word out through their outlets across the country.

The winning national entry, selected from the provincial / territorial winners, will become the official poster for the 1987 Canada Day celebrations. The winning artist and his/her immediate family will be guests of the Secretary of State for the Canada Day activities on Parliament Hill.

The contest will be open to all Canadians and entries must be postmarked before midnight, February 21, 1987. Posters should be 38 cm by 50 cm (15 inches by 20 inches) and done with crayons, paint or pastels. Contestants are entitled to one entry only. In Ontario, entries should be mailed to the office of the Department of the Secretary of State attention "Canada Day Poster Contest", Suite 200, 25 St. Clair Ave. E., Toronto, Ontario M4T 1M2.

Huskies take series 3-1

The Haliburton Midget Huskies completed the round robin section of O.M.H.A. Playoffs this past week with 3 wins and a loss.

Monday, January 26 the Huskies defeated Fenelon Falls 3 - 1 in Fenelon. Tom MacLeod scored two goals with the third going to Ted Paish. Jaro Cooper assisted on all three goals, with Ron Perrin and Drew Mitchell picking up 1 assist each.

On Tuesday in Haliburton the Huskies dominated Lindsay by a 11 - 0 score.

Jaro Cooper notched the hat trick, Marty Andrews scored twice, while Jason Stamp, Jeff Popple, John Wells, Ron Perrin, Allan Rydman and Tom MacLeod all had singles.

Friday night saw the Midgets travelling to Beaverton and coming out on the losing end of a 7 - 5 game. Jaro Cooper scored three times, singles going to Drew Mitchell and Ted Paish.

Back in Haliburton on Saturday night the Huskies rallied to defeat Beaverton 3 - 2. Tom MacLeod, Ted Paish and Marty Andrews picked up the Haliburton goals.

The Midget Huskies will now play a best of five series with either Beaverton or Fenelon Falls. Fans are advised to watch for posters showing the next home game.

track rental fees. The club builds the course at the beginning of the winter and each race weekend it is rented by a different participating club.

As far as Prentice and the Kinsmen are concerned, it's a complete success. They've succeeded in making their track the best in the Province, driver participation has more than doubled since the race has come to Minden, and the people of Haliburton County now have another winter sport to enjoy as participants and spectators.

directly.

Agriculture has dominated some of my schedule recently. On January 24, I attended the annual Haliburton County Farmers Banquet at the Royal Canadian Legion in Haliburton. As usual the meeting was well attended and of course the food as always, was excellent.

Then, on January 27, I had the pleasure of introducing the Minister of Agriculture and Food, the Honourable Jack Riddell at the annual meeting of the Victoria County Cattleman's Association. Although my colleague and I both were required to be in the legislature until 6:00 p.m., we managed to arrive at the meeting on time where the association displayed the hospitality of the area. While we did not return to Queen's Park until after 1:00 a.m., I know Mr. Riddell and I were both pleased to have had an opportunity to attend the annual meeting.

Sled dog racers capture prizes

Local sled dog drivers and teams continue to place well in races throughout Ontario and the United States.

During the past two weeks, Val Loughheed of Minden placed second in the three dog all Siberian Husky class at Tupper Lake, New York. The other member of the Loughheed racing team, Steve, placed fifteenth in the eight dog competition at the same venue. The finish ensured the local driver would earn professional points for his over-all season placing.

At Saranac Lake, New York, where the Alpo International Sled Dog

Races were held, Steve placed twenty-third in a field of close to 40 racers. While he was some distance back in the pack, Steve is still pleased with the placing because of the high calibre of racers attracted to this race.

The Loughheed racing teams are sponsored by Kamik Boots and Northland Sales of Minden.

Another local race driver, Gary Pringle of Haliburton, captured first place honours in the four dog class in a race held during the weekend in Sturgeon Falls, near North Bay.

RENT REVIEW UPDATE FROM THE MINISTRY OF HOUSING

Now there's a Rent Registry for all private rental units in Ontario.

One of the most significant features of Ontario's new rent review system is the establishment of a computerized, province-wide Rent Registry.

Until now, it was often difficult for tenants to verify that their rents were legal.

The new Rent Registry will record the maximum legal rent which can be charged for every private rental unit in the province.

When the registration process is complete, this information will be available free of charge to tenants, prospective tenants and landlords.

Rent information will be updated annually.

Landlords of all private rental units in the province will be required to register their rents with the new Registry.

When the landlord's units are properly registered, the Registry computer will automatically update the rents each year.

The Registry will record rent increases for each unit of either the Guideline amount announced annually or by the amount decided upon in a rent review decision.

Landlords will soon receive registration kits.

Landlords of rental complexes with more than six units are being sent registration kits with the necessary forms to be completed.

Landlords who have not received a registration kit by February 2, 1987, should phone or visit their local Rent Review Office.

Landlords of smaller complexes can also obtain registration kits by calling their local office.

Landlords of residential complexes with more than six rental units must register by May 1, 1987.

Landlords of complexes containing more than six rental units have until May 1, 1987, to register information about their units with the new Rent Registry.

Landlords of smaller complexes containing six units or less, as well as boarding houses and lodging houses, will be notified by the Ministry of Housing of a specific registration deadline at a later date. These landlords are encouraged to file with the Rent Registry as early as possible.

Landlords are required to file with the Registry the actual rent that was charged on July 1, 1985, for every rental unit in their complex.

Most landlords will only be required to register once.

How tenants can verify their rents.

When the rents for a building have been registered, the Registry will notify the landlord and the tenants of the rent information which has been recorded for their units.

The Registry will also advise the landlord and tenants of the time limits for making applications to challenge or certify the actual rent that has been recorded.

Registry information will be easy to obtain.

As there are more than one million rental units in the province, rent registration will take some time.

When the registration process is fully completed, information from the Registry will be available by toll-free telephone or by visiting a local Rent Review Office.

For more information and landlord registration forms, call toll-free 1-800-387-9060, or phone your local Rent Review Office.

Hall's, Home & Vasey win playoff openers

The play-offs have begun. In the first Minden Men's Recreational Hockey League game Monday night, Hall's Insurance faced off with Hartwick Construction and won 6-3.

It was a tough, close game by all accounts, but Hall's gained the advantage in the first period by getting the first two goals. Scorers were Rick Salmon and Bernie Upton.

Still in the first period, Hartwick managed to come back with a goal by Brian Shaw and then another by Dan Read.

Just before the buzzer, Hall's regained the advantage when Dennis Wilson charged in from the blue line to get Hall's third goal of the game.

At the start of the second period the score was 3-2 for Hall's. Hartwick fought back and evened up the game again when Brian Shaw knocked in his second goal of the evening.

But Hall's didn't intend to lose. They made their point with three consecutive goals, ending the game with a three goal advantage.

Scorers were: Dave Brown, Bernie Upton and Lawrence Lougheed.

In the second game of the evening, Home Hardware defeated Rockcliffe Foamblowers 13-10. A high-scoring match, it was won by attrition more than any other single element. Home scorers were: Jeff Howe with seven goals, Dean Hewitt with three, John Barkwell who score two goals and Dave Dollo with one.

Rockcliffe scorers were: Jim Keetch, Barry Shaw (2), Doug Schell, Greg Carpenter (2), Doug Thain, Barry Boice (2) and Kevin Hamilton.

Game three of the evening saw Vasey beat The Times 9-6.

From the start Vasey dominated the action. The first goal of the game was put in by Times player Ben Manuge. It was answered, still in the first period, by Vasey's Dave Hartwick.

Then Doug Colbourne of The Times came in for his team for another goal.

With the score even at 2-2 Vasey's got a three goal streak. Scorers were: Dave Hartwick and Larry Sawyer (2).

Not to be outdone, The Times came back with a three goal streak of its own. Their point getters were: Carl Northey and Ben Manuge (2).

The score sat at 5-5.

Hurling themselves into the lead, Vasey countered with a five goal streak that began part way into the third period. Scoring were: Dave Hartwick (2), Royce Miller and Larry Sawyer (2).

The playoffs continue this Monday at the Minden arena. The best of five series will see Hall's play The Times at 7 p.m. Hartwick takes on Home at 8:30 p.m. and Rockcliffe play Vasey's at 10 p.m. There is no charge for admission to these games.

Pee Wees win in Bobcaygeon 4-0

- submitted -

Kernohan's PeeWees travelled to Bobcaygeon last Thursday night only to win by 4-0 shut-out. Nice gift to Coach on his birthday. Scoring for Minden were, in the first period: Rob Ackersblade, assisted by Wyatt Nesbitt and Hunter Obee; Hunter Obee, unassisted; in the second period: Rob Ackersblade from Jamie Dollo; and Jamie Dollo, unassisted.

Aaron Hie made some super stops in net.

Also, the Minden Kernohan PeeWees broke tradition of normally staying in to attend Carnival Parade to travel to Baltimore where they obtained a victory of 6 to 1 for Minden. Scoring for the team were, in the first period: Wyatt Nesbitt from Jason Scarlett and Mike Muli; Rob Ackersblade, unassisted; in the second period Mike Muli from Jason Scarlett and Wyatt Nesbitt; in the third period: Wyatt Nesbitt from Oliver Greer; Mike Muli, unassisted; Wyatt Nesbitt from Rob Ackersblade and Jason Scarlett.

Aaron Hie was steady between the posts. Good games guys!

Novices win close contest in Oakwood

Saturday Minden travelled to Oakwood for a Novice II game. In a fast paced game there was no score but many chances for both sides until late in the third period an Oakwood shot deflected off a Minden player into the Minden net giving Oakwood a hard earned 1 - 0 victory.

Sunday Minden hosted the Fenelon 2 team in another close game. Fenelon took the lead but Minden tied it up on a goal by Ben Ripley from Ryan Ander-

Attention Property Owners and Tenants in the Township of Monmouth

Your Municipality is Being Reassessed

Your New Assessment

In response to a request from your municipal council, all properties will be reassessed under the Section 63 Reassessment Program.

The Section 63 Reassessment Program is designed to equalize assessments within property classes, based on 1984 market value.

Mailing of Assessment Notices

1986 Assessment Notices will be mailed to all property owners and tenants.

The assessed value shown on your Notice will be used for the calculation of your 1987 municipal and school taxes.

A full explanation of the Section 63 Reassessment Program, appeal procedures and a timetable for Open Houses in your area can be found on the information inserts which accompany your new Assessment Notice.

Open House Sessions Will Answer Questions

Open House sessions have been planned at convenient times and locations in your municipality to afford you the opportunity to review your assessment with staff of the Regional Assessment Office.

Assessment staff will be pleased to explain the basis of your property assessment and are authorized to amend all data (school support, assessment, etc.) on your Notice.

You are encouraged to take advantage of this service.

Rolls Available For Review

The Assessment Roll will be available for review at your local municipal office during regular business hours, beginning February 27, 1987.

If You Wish To Appeal

If you believe you have been improperly assessed in any way, you may file a formal complaint with the Assessment Review Board. The final date for filing an appeal is March 19, 1987.

Information on appeal procedures is provided on your Assessment Notice and in the Information Insert.

IMPULSE BUY?

Come February, a lot of people scramble to get an RRSP before the deadline date. They may not be doing themselves any favours by impulse buying.

It's important to choose the proper type of RRSP to meet your long term needs and save taxes.

If you'd like to talk about retirement planning, or financial planning in general, I can help.

Music is important in children's development

by Faith Aggett

Last Sunday, a group of parents and their children enjoyed the second of a three part series of children's concerts co-sponsored by CHACE Inc. and the Ontario Arts Council.

Music is a universal language. From the first cry, subsequent crying, cooing, babbling and gurgling the music of the ages has emerged. Children are natural musicians. Their feelings for music begins early. As we join with the child, rocking and bouncing, clapping hands and jiggling feet, soothingly stringing sounds together, the basis of melody, harmony and rhythm are created.

Each of us in our childhood days goes through the same trial and error process used by primitive man. Babies experiment with different tones as he cries - long before he uses his vocal cords to speak. Although the voice was the first musical instrument, the invention of mechanical aids soon added to the enjoyment of sounds. Now we have the advantage of a musical system so vast that none can encompass it all. But each of us can attain some degree of competence, provided we have an opportunity to learn.

Music provides a natural medium to encourage a child's development. It can be used to release tensions and set a relaxing atmosphere. It is an important means of promoting grammar (rhyming) and extended vocabulary. It assists in developing listening skills and auditory awareness. It can be a means of reaching a withdrawn or shy child. It can develop humour and singing in a group can give a satisfying feeling of belonging. Music is for the joy it gives.

The musical training of young children requires two things: first it must subtly suggest some of the rules of melody and rhythm through example, through participation and through listening; second it must give the child ample opportunity for expressing his feelings and emotions and thereby leave open the avenues of creativity.

Music is important to all our lives, whether we be a listener or a creator. I feel we are extremely fortunate to have these guest performers brought to our doorstep to share their musical expertise with our children thereby enriching their knowledge of the one language we can all share.

Precious years

I've wasted many precious years
Against you, my own Mother.
I pulled away, my love, myself,
And kept us from each other;
The years have touched your saddened face,
Your body and your soul,
The Lord is standing by your bed,
While death sets in its role.

Is it too late for me to say
I'm sorry for my deeds;
Ignoring you and all you've been,
To fill my selfish needs.
Your dying breath is close at hand,
I've wasted precious years.
And all I have, is self made pride
To mix with bitter tears.

If I could have, but one more day
To spend it all with you.
I'd race with time, to do the things
I know, you'd like to do.
But, God now holds you in His arms,
It's now a brand new dawn.
I've wasted all those precious years,
And Mother, now you're gone.

Carol Dumelle

Toulouse Lautrec

Do you know what it feels like to be different?
I do!

Do you know what it feels like
To be treated like a freak?

I do. Why? Because God gave you or cursed you with a talent!

Poor Toulouse was looked upon
As someone who was different.
Until he reached puberty he was handsome
Then - something happened

In his genes -

And he began to change.

He was a very talented young man

And he could draw.

Do you have any idea what it is like

To put your heart and soul into your Art

Only to be rejected?

Toulouse was born with a malady,

I have no excuse

But I do know what it is like to be rejected

It's horrible.

I hope none of you experience it

You strive for success,

Some make it, some don't

But at least we try

Without the horror that Lautrec had to deal with

And yet his beauty lives on.

Yvonne

As this is Heart and Stroke Month, there are roses for sale for this fund at local stores and Cliff and Jean Lacey are in charge. Later there will be canvassers visiting you, so be generous when they call.

The Kinsmen Winter Carnival had great weather and the crowds sure used that. The parade was good though we wondered "Who was late this time?" Events went on as planned and there was competition for the young ladies. Senior Queen was Cindy Dunham, Senior Princess Paula Beaver; Junior Queen Tanya Woodcock and Junior Princess Marjorie Phillips. There were two farm wagons with teams to give rides up and down town provided by the Rotary Club. We understand the car races go on for some weeks yet and drivers of these had to be really expert on that icy track. Food was available many places and everyone who was involved should be congratulated on a very successful two days.

The Thrift Shop beside The Times will be open this Friday and Saturday from 1:30 - 4. Next weekend will be Minden Midget Tournament call L. Goard 286-3782. Hi folks. Winter is really here but someone will soon be saying "I saw a robin today", and then its spring.

Rev. J. Burgess had charge of church service Sunday evening assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Thompson.

We welcome another new resident Mrs. Swann. We hope she will like Hyland Crest.

I had my sister Cora Upton of Bracebridge and her son Jim for lunch on Saturday. We are glad to see Edith Welch home from hospital and well again.

The movies Monday were "Then there was light" and "Beneath the Frozen World."

We are glad to see Edna Cowan home again after visiting with friends. The Kinette Club of Minden brought in the goodies for our Tea Party on Thursday afternoon and the goodies

Winners at this week's Club 35 euchre party include for the 50-50 draw Hal Burton, high lady Pearl Foster, high man - Vern Boles, most lone hands - Helen Davis and others Myrna McCarthy, Bill Donnelly and George Alsop.

Nice and mild and foggy this Monday morning but as my folks used to say a "winter's fog will freeze a dog". Watch out we will pay for this, though it is a help on the fuel bill. Keep smiling.

were really good. There were 32 residents and 3 visitors present. A social time was had by all.

Those having January birthdays were: Royce Harrison, Alice Todd, Hugh McEachern, Kathleen Nesbitt, and Mrs. Swann.

Reports are that Charlie Brohm is recovering nicely.

Winnie Barnum left on Sunday last to see her mother in a Kingston Nursing Home, then to Peterborough for this week to visit friends and relatives arriving back Sunday, February 1st.

Friday afternoon we had games of euchre, cribbage and crokinole. It was fun.

Doris took a bus load of residents to the Carnival on Saturday.

Spring cleaning nearly drives us mad but, when it's done are we glad!

Til next week.

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Q: Why are elephants wrinkled?

A: Have you ever tried to iron one?

Q: Why didn't the worms go into the ark in pairs?

A: They went in apples.

Q: Why did the farmer take a needle into his fields?

A: To sow his corn.

Q: Why can't you replace my lost canary?

A: Because I wouldn't fit into the cage.

Q: What can the water wash but the sun can't dry?

A: Butter.

New staff at Agricultural office

Ann Hankinson has been appointed the new Rural Organization Specialist for Victoria and Haliburton Counties and is joining the staff of the Lindsay Agricultural Office on February 1st.

Ann is transferring to Lindsay after serving as Rural Organization Specialist in the Uxbridge office during the past year and in the Thunder Bay office for two years previous to that.

Ann was raised on a beef farm in Elgin County where she was very active in the 4-H Club program as both a member and a leader. She graduated from the University of Western Ontario with her degree in Home Economics in 1978. She spent three years with CUSO in Sierra Leone in West Africa where she assisted in the formulation and implementation of a vocational Home Economics Program for rural youth as well as developing adult extension programs.

This training and experience will be valuable to Ann as she now assumes the responsibility for providing leadership and professional advice to both rural youth and adult farm organizations in Victoria and Haliburton Counties.

Resist unbelievable advertising claims
Farmers, beware of unbelievable advertising claims. Your greatest defense against miracle cures and equipment is a natural skepticism and a "show-me-how-it-works-before-I-believe-it" attitude.

For instance, a brochure I received last summer offered a device which will remove pesticides, herbicides, bacteria, odours, iron, algae, salt, hardness, and more, from water, without chemicals, energy or maintenance. It looked too good to be true.

So in July I wrote the company asking for an explanation of how it worked and some scientific data showing its effectiveness. As yet I have not received a reply.

Another company offers a feed additive package that cures scours without antibiotics or bacteriostatic chemicals. A natural product. They don't know how it works, but it does.

Farmers are particularly vulnerable to these types of gimmicks for a number of reasons. The complexity of problems on most farms, the lack of clearly defined causes for most conditions, and low profit margins all make fast, simple cures very attractive.

Managers who have to watch their inputs too carefully, are often too ready to jump at a less expensive, even if unproven, method of solving a problem.

There are several techniques farmers and others can use to increase their sales resistance. Perhaps the most effective involves time.

Take time to make your decision before buying. Demand a written explanation of how the product or equipment does the job. Take time to study it. Share it with others and get their opinion.

Never (or at least, seldom) buy on the first sales pitch. Say little and let the salesman do the talking. A good salesman tries to make you talk and then manipulates your thinking. Make him come back again if you're interested at all. The average first sale is made on the third or fourth call.

Don't say yes until you're sure. If possible, get a free or low priced sample to try. Make sure it is big enough to give you a convincing trial. It's your money you're spending. You have a right to make the decision.

By the way, if anyone knows how to remove everything from water without using either chemicals or energy, please let me know. Maybe someone has discovered a new law of physics.

Library enters second phase of automation

February is a landmark month in the life of Haliburton County Public Library as it operationally enters PHASE 2 of its long-term automation project developed in co-operation with the Ontario Library Consortium (OLC).

"The initial planning is long over" remarked Joel Levis, County Librarian, "the funding is in place and now the practical work can begin, namely the development of the machine readable data base. We will be using the latest in CD-ROM technology to compile the data base," continued Levis, "and it is hoped that by the end of the year, we will have all of our 31,000 titles entered and available to everyone else in the consortium."

This will mean long improvements in the InterLibrary Loan process and eventually could mean that each branch may have its own electronic catalogue of holdings and as well, automated acquisitions and even circulation. The development of the data base is the cornerstone with everything else being built upon it at the library's own speed and in line with their own goals and objectives.

Funding by the Ministry of Citizenship and Culture has enabled the participants to acquire microcomputer facilities for data input and the Federal Government has provided funding to accomplish the actual input.

The OLC is a co-operative venture by over 50 county and municipal libraries across the Province of Ontario who are taking the first steps toward an automated library environment. The main feature of the consortium is that these many libraries have bound themselves together in an attempt to share their informational resources for the benefit of all library users and hence, have tremendous purchasing power and influence in their own right.

"The format is a standard one giving us the potential to talk to other data bases across the province (and the country) and when you add this potential to our resources and to those other members of the consortium, the positive influence on society is tremendous", he concluded.

The input process will take the better part of a year, during which the Haliburton County Public Library Board will be making decisions on future possible directions in conjunction with the other members of the consortium.

(Prepared by Joel Levis, County Librarian)
